GAMES TOMORROW.

Washington at Philadelphin. Brooklyn at Boston. Louisville at Chicago. Pitesburg at Cleveland. Cincinnati at St. Louis

The New Yorks were victorious in both ontests yesterday. The great majority of the 7,500 speciators were greatly disappointed at the listless playing of the iome team Young Seymour pitched the first game and his staff embraced every member of the Washington team. He was is fine form and he made veritable apple blessoms which a strong wind blows away. They could not hit him at all, and when Judge Sullivan began the second game they were still suffering with ball fright and seemed plantes before the corpulent twirfer, who is putting up a first-rate article of hall.

is that they did as well as the Baltimores against the Giants. However, it must b said that Joyce's men are in the game, and of holiday proportions saw some capital it will not surprise any one to see them one, cap, at one and an eighth miles, which away. They are a lot of strong hitters, was won by Sir Walter, with Cromwell their fielding is equal to any team in the League, and they are not at on the bases.

"Stonewall" O'Brien had the index finger of his left hand severely injured by a foul ball. The sphere hit him on the first joint and burst a blood vessel. He had the injured member dressed and the physician says that it may become very troublesome. There are chances that it will stiffen, and in that event he will be out of the game for a long while. It will take at least three days before it will b definitely known how bad the injury is second. Umpire Lynch was taken sick after the first game, and Mr. John Heydler was selected by the two captains, and he proved himself as proficient as any of Uncle Nick's regular staff. Only one de-cision could be questioned and that one did not affect the score. He gave excellent judgment on balls and strikes. The Senators lost the first game by a core of $ to 1, only being saved from a shot out by the great head work of Farrell in the sixth inning, after two men were out.

Wrigley was the first man up, and after a wait, was given his base on balls, but was forced by Selbuch's hit to Davis. De Montreville was an easy out to Van Haltren, Selback, in the meantime, having stolen second and gone to third. Far reli then stepped to the plate, and the spectators who were present went wild with excitement, confident that Farrell mour evidently feared the Duke, for up

The Buckeye twirler, whom the visitors knocked out of the box on Friday, es-sayed to pitch the second game, and it must be said that he was ineffective from the mart. He was just as easy for the New Yorks as any pitcher they have faced this season and they had a lac-ing time of it. Mercer absolutely was weak, indifferent, and listless.

After two men were retired, Joyce singled, was advanced by Davis' base on balls, and scored on Glenson's safe drive for a base. Park Wilson made a triple in the second and scored on Clark's single. Then came balls, and before the side was out, two russ passed over the plate.

They deplicated the number of runs in the third on singles by Gleason, Wilson and singles by Suffivan and Tiernan, a base on Clark and a pet-out.

Five runs were made in the sixth on a base on bails, DeMontreville's error, singles by Van Haitren, Joyce and Daris and Wil-

The Senators scored one in the first inning on Schbach's hit, a steal and errors of Davis and Wilson. In the sixth they added another on De-Montreville's three-bagger and McGuire's out to Holmes.

They made a feint at a raily in the eighth. Schach started with a triple, DeMontre-ville singled, McGuire got first on a force and Tucker made a double. Two runs were Tiernan dropped Wrigley's fly close to the right fiekt, and the youngster went to third on the error. He scored on Selbach's single. DeMontreville ended the fuss by flying out to Gleason.

And so ends the ball business in Wash ington in a professional way until the 28th day of July. The Senators will play in Philadelphia and New York next week and then go over the Western circuit. The second game is detailed as follows: Washington. Al Wrigiey, c. f., 2b. 5

A POISONER AT WORK.

Residents of Batavia in a State of Alarm.

Batavia, N. Y., June 26. - The sudden and altogether mysterious death of Mrs. Elizaboth Bailey has thrown the town into a state of panicky excitement. Following as it does close upon the Benham poisoning case, it has resulted in the wild theory that Batavia is under the ban of a whole sale poisoner.

Mrs. Bulley, who was twenty-one years old, and but recently married, was visit-ing her mother at No. 25 South Liberty street. She complained of pains in her head and stomach Thursday night, and the doctor who was summoned administered It was decided that the suddenness of at least, and Drs. Morse, Whitcomb and Manchester, who conducted the examine tion, found quantities of arsenic in her was due to corrosive poisoning, and their report to Coroner Barringer so read. The corener left by an early train today

SHOOTING AT ELKWOOD.

Number of Interesting Matches at Live Birds.

Long Branch, N. J., June 26 .- Elkwood Park was the scene of a number of interesting matches at live birds this afternoon. The principal event, the Grand Jubi-lee Handicap, was won by Phil. Daly, ir., with 19 kills. His twelfth bird, a rapid driver, was the only one to get away.

Robert Toland, of the Riverton Gun Club Philadelphia, captured second money with 15 kills. Bland Ballard scored his usual luck, finishing with 17 kills and one dead out of bounds. Clarence Doland did not finish. A fast lot of birds were used in the bandicap shooting. A strong wind was QUARREL IN A QUAKER FAMILY. An Aged Farmer Charges His Sons With Assanit.

Oyster Bay, L. I., June 26 .- There was a remarkable scene in Justice Franklin's court loday, when a gray-baired, trembling old man charged his three stalwart sons with having tied him with ropes and with hav ing plotted to put him away.
What makes it more strange is that this family, whose hatred breaks the closest tier of blood, are Quakers, pledged to peace by the gospel of human brotherhood. The aged man, who exhibited his a wollen and lacerated wrists in court, mute wit-with, is Willet H. Seaman, of Jericho. He is a rich farmer and is seventy years old He declared in the warrant on which the ons, Willet, Frank and Edward, were arrested, that they had tied him with ropes to a bedpost and kept him there till the neighbors came in and released him. He said his family were trying to get rid of The sons declare that the old man is crazy. They say he is insanely jealous of his wife, their sweet-tempered old mather, who Is as old as her husband. Their father, they assert is made more violent by liquor, and in his dementia throws stones at the windows, and once shot at a sunbeam that entered his moon, declaring that it was a burglar.

Pack of today's proceedings is a quarre a year old. Last summer, at the request inquired into by Drs George W Faller, of this place, and John Mann, of Jerico. was pronounced insone, and committed to an asylum in Poughkeepsie.

Three months later friends made an application to Judge Garretson for his re lease, and a sheriff's jury in the county court, presided over by Judge Moore, de cided him to be of sound mind. At this trial the old man accused his sons of try-ing to get rid of him in order to secure his property. This they denied.

Last week one of the boys asked Jerom

R. Johnson, county superintendent of the poor, to have a commission appointed to test his father's sanity. The superintendent advised the son to consult a lawyer be fore taking action. Immediately there

WILLIAM HOEY RAVING MAD.

Will Probably Never Again Appear on the Stage. New York, June 26.—William Hoey passed a dreadful night at the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. T. French, of 201 West One Hundred and Twenty-third street, last night He was awake all night and kept the rest of the occupants awake. He whistled and sang and went through several scenes of the part of "Olt Hoss," which made him famous. He spoke to imaginary per sons, player friends, and raved. His wife is ill, and her condition was made worse by the condition of her hus-band. He recognized her after he reached the house on his return from Mount Clemens, but never after that time bert F. Chapman said this morning that he had not yet completed hi diagnosis of the case, but was sure the mental ailment threatened to be per-

Mrs French said that the family would try to keep Hoey at home, but if his con-dition made that impossible he would be ant to a private institution and not to

TRAMP GARVEY DEAD. Made Famous by His Sieep in the 623 13th St. N. W.

Astor Mansion. Newburg, N. Y., June 26. John Garvey, the tramp who sept six hours in a bed at Mrs. William Astor's house, November 17, 1804, died in the Mattenwan Insane Asylum ted he came to. He was arrested, and his caused much conjecture, many persons thinking him a clever imposter. While awaiting trial he was declared in

The tramp entered Mrs. Astor's Fifth

John Garvey would never have been known to the reading public had it not been for his feat of sleeping in the laceing bed in the Astor mans It was 11 o'clock at night when one of the chambermakts, in passing what she thought was an unoccupied guest chamber, saw the gas burning dimiy. She looked in and saw a pair of tattered trousers hanging over a damask-covered chair. On the rich carpet were a pail of battered and road-worn brogans. She looked at the bed, and there, soded and tired, his face covered with a matted mass of hair, lay John Garrey

She screamed, of course. He opened his ever and looked at her in silent astonish When a dozen other sertvants had come and the police had been summoned, Gar vey was pulled from the bed, forced to dress himself and taken to a police station. There he was asked how he got

"I just walked in," he said. "I found went into the ward. A door next the kitchen was open and I went through it. I went upetairs and found three or four rooms with beds. Some of them were so big they looked uncomfortable. One just suite me and I tumbled in. Then they came and pulled me out."

Garvey was sent to the island for five days for the trick. While he was there Mr. Aster decided that probably Garvey was a burgiar; so when the tramp was released he was rearrested on a charge of entering the house for the purpose of robone year, but lawyers went to his rescue and got him a new trial. While this was pending he was declared

MOONSHINERS IN NEW YORK. Ran an Illicit Distillery in

Heart of the City. New York, June 26 .- Right in the heart of the dry goods district New York has Revenue Agent Robert Williams, fr., scovered it at 125 Mercer street, in an old house known as "The Survivor," one block from Broadway. He received an anonymous letter about the distillery, but the occupants of the building laughed at the idea. attic, and the cellar is used by one Goldberg for storing second-hand dry goods

Agent Williams searched the house and was about to give up the hunt, when he noticed a locked foor at the end of the first floor hall. When he opened the door the smell of whisky was strong

He found a dead ohn containing ten gal-how of whisky, six tubs containing whisky mash, a forty-gallon boiler and a converter. The remnants of burned candles on the floor indicated the men worked at night. Burnham & Van Vliet, agents of the building, said a man named Goldstein rented he room four months ago, ostensibly for a storage place for furs. He saw him last a month ago.

Williams thinks the men who ran the distillery had a falling out, and one of them wrote the anonymous letter for spite. Ar-
